INTERVIEW OF Mr ABDULLA AHMED ALSHEHHI CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER AT DUBAI CARES

Mr Abdulla Ahmed ALSHEHHI, Chief Operating Officer at Dubai Cares, sat and kindly answered to USPA's French correspondent (People of Determination) questions, on site, by the end of the "UAE Stands with Lebanon" operation. Here is the short interview.

USPA/ RSR Who was in charge of supervising the over 4000 volunteers?

ABDULLA AHMED ALSHEHHI : For this second edition, it was close we coordinated the operation with Red Crescent and we had also the supervision from the National Council of International Migrants needs who are in charge of the international Aids for all needs in the UAE. These are the one who organized such an event.

Hence, we are working with different partners to execute this initiative. The over acting campaign that was launched within the UAE has more than twenty five partners (25), from different sectors in the UAE, including NGO, and different charities, foundations and volunteering platforms, coming together to support this campaign for Lebanon.

USPA/ RSR : Who is to decide the composition of the Boxes content? Upon which request & criteria ?

ABDULLA AHMED ALSHEHHI :

The items have been chosen by our great partners who are distributing these packs, which are the Emirates Red Crescent who'd chose what are the items content of the packs, their quantity, needed for that emergency response and of course each country has its own specification when it comes to food items or hygiene items, or other items. All this has been internally discussed with the partners, and after having agreed on the quantities, we, as far as Dubai Cares is concerned, we call for volunteers for them to participate to come & packing all these items. We then supervise the operation from A to Z, collecting the items, organizing them, putting them in line, and preparing in a neat way the items, for the ones to receive them.

ABDULLA AHMED ALSHEHHI :

When the volunteers come, they get registered, and access to the working area and demo table for them to see how it should be done. We kind of show them, how to put the items in order the in the boxes. Once it is done, we start supplying each line with the number of qualities which is required.

So, it is an operation from A to Z, once they are allocated to stations, we have team leaders who briefed them a day before.

It is their responsibility to oversee these stations by giving them orientation and brief to the volunteers and participants who'd come and to do the packing by themselves.

We also have a dedicated team for quality control, because it is very important that by the end of this activity we have a tracking number, for quality control. It is so important because we don't want a box going to a family missing an item. They are urgent necessary for every single item, and if one is missing, from the box it would not looking nice. So that's why the quality control team is very keen and very focused on the activity before sending it for the people in need.

USPA/ RSR : One can appreciate this delicate and ethical approach towards the victims to receive the items form donations, during this operation. Not only valuing the content of the boxes, but also paying a high respect to the victims of the conflict in Lebanon.

What is the next and last step to send these packs to Lebanon?

ABDULLA AHMED ALSHEHHI :

As soon as we are done with this activity, we had our partner Emirates Red Crescent, who are in charge of collecting all these boxes and shipping them to the warehouses, closed by here, to be stored before they are sent directly to Lebanon through different means, airways through airplanes.

The UAE has sent more than nine (9) planes already since, filled of tons of Urgent Aids. The current boxes will follow the same shipment to Lebanon as soon as possible.../
